One thing we are really aching to find out that hasn't been explained in too much detail is what exactly has been done at the Gold King in the last week to help remediate the problem? We've seen the ponds, but is there anything else going on up there?

My editors are aching for an answer as soon as possible. Is there anyway you can help me out this AM?

Please?!

Thanks,

Hi Jesse. Good meeting you today, and thanks again for saving my seat. We're unsure whether conditions are safe enough to do tours, unfortunately, but I'll keep you posted.
